Annual Fall Carnival Is Outstanding Success

The best ever was the way one of the R.A.A. executive summed up the Carnival which wound up last night, or we should say this morning, the general committee getting ready for a little sleep at about 3 a.m. The crowd the first night was not extra large, but the second night, from 9 p.m. until after 1 a.m. the hall was jammed with people, some eager to play the games & try and beat the house others there to dance to the music of Cody's Seven, and others there to see what the rest were doing.

The usual run of games, bingo crown and anchor, the guillotine, and what not were going. Booths of candy, the hot dog table and all, and mixed with all this were the dancers. The sale of tickets especially on the Bicycle was extra good, and this was won by Merle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Judd. The bedroom suite was won by Ed Pomon, while the Queen contest was won by Miss Betty Leavitt, who was duly crowned with all the pomp and splendor of a royal court.

It was a good Carnival, staged for a very worthy cause, and on behalf of the R.A.A. and the Lions, we want to say thanks to all you folks who helped put it over. We hope the money raised will make a start for really worthwhile and necessary improvements to the Opera House, our new Social Centre.

SCHOOL PAPER GAINS HIGH A.C.P. RATING

REACHES "ALL AMERICAN" CLASS DESPITE CRITIC'S DEDUCTIONS

"Your paper is outstanding in practically every department—weaknesses are mainly those of omission, rather than inherent errors in the material. Congratulations on a fine job!"

This was the summary comment written on the final page of the scorebook which rated last year's Signpost, Weber college student newspaper, superior and gave it the ranking of all American. The scorebook arrived Tuesday from the headquarters of the Associated College Press at the University of Minnesota, Minn. Fred L. Kildow of the Minnesota department of journalism is director of the organization and Cluster M. Nilsson is advisor for the Faculty.

Boost the Red Cross Effort

Folks, we are still at war, and we still need Red Cross. We thought the quilt donated as we reported last week, from three of the ladies of the Town was a very worthy gesture, and we have wondered since if this be, wouldn't it be nice to feel couldn't be a cue for more such efforts by neighbor ladies of the Town. We know everyone is busy, and yet, in the midst of all, we should be very happy if we had the satisfaction of knowing that few hours of our work enabled some child, some mother, some father or some person in the service, to have a more pleasant sleep because he had one more quilt.

Rotary Meeting

At Monday's Rotary meeting speakers were Sergt Paul Evans who told the group a little of the training given recruits for the Air Force and said they now had a longer and more technical course, and that when the boys finished the training, said Paul, and afterwards are delegated to certain branches for specialized study and work. Shirley King of the Postal Corps told of the tremendous amount of mail that comes for the Overseas forces, and how the Military Postal staff is organized to care for it, one floor taking care of the parcels only, and another floor the letters, magazines and papers. Both the boys talks were very interesting and Rotarians were very happy to welcome them home again for a few days.

Telegram Received

Following is the reply to the telegram forwarded to Pres. Heber Grant last Sunday from the Taylor Stake Conference on the occasion of his 86 birthday:

Salt Lake City, Utah,
November 23rd, 1942.
Pres. T. Geo. Wood and Councilors,

Many thanks for your telegram of congratulations and good will. Had a wonderful birthday.

Heber J. Grant.

Shirley King is home on leave from Ottawa where he is in the Military Postal Service.

Names Please

The local Canadian Legion are making an appeal now for addresses and names of all men in the Armed Forces who are stationed in Canada and the United States.

The parcels for men who are overseas have been sent and they are now very desirous of securing the names and the most recent addresses of all men and women in North America in order that a token of remembrance can be sent them in time for Xmas.

Please do this at once and leave these names and addresses with Lee Brewerton, Art Pope or The Recorder Office. For this we say Thanks.

Quarterly Conference Convenes

With Elder Clifford E. Young assistant to the Twelve, representing the General Authorities of the Church, the Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake of Zion was held Saturday evening and Sunday last. The Saturday evening meeting was a Priesthood session and talks were given on Priesthood activities, and reports called for from the various Quorums.

Sunday morning's meeting commenced at 10 a.m. and after were announced and sustained a few changes in Stake Officers Church and Stake authorities by Pres. Wood, the General were presented by Stake Clerk L. B. Roberts and sustained by unanimous vote of the congregation.

Elders Mac Hicken and Don Briggs, returned missionaries reported their labors and bore testimonies to the divinity of the work in which we are engaged. Elder Hicken had been home quite awhile but had not had an opportunity previously of reporting in Stake Conference.

Elders Geo. Thomson and C. E. Allred spoke briefly on Stake Missionary work and exhorted the people to live good clean lives to merit the blessings of the Lord.

Sunday, November 22nd, was the 86th birthday anniversary of Pres. Heber J. Grant and President Wood read a suggested message of congratulation to the President to be forwarded from this Conference and the people all stood as showing their desire that the message be sent. At 86 President Grant is still enjoying a fair degree of physical health and his mentality is as keen as ever. The assembled crowd appreciated the opportunity of sharing in greetings to a man who is loved and respected by all who know him, inside and outside the Church.

Elder Young, who is a son-in-law of President Grant, by request related a number of rather personal glimpses into the life of the President that do not always reach the printed page, showing the devotion to duty, the absolute fairness without the generosity, forgiving spirit and desire to help the uncomprehending attitude, and that characterizes the life of the President. Learning life's lessons the hard way, President Grant has unbounded patience and faith in those who try, but he expects people to keep their word with him, as he does with others and wants no one to compromise with evil. Elder Young told of the great gathering on the occasion of the 80th birthday of President Grant, sponsored by the non-Mormon business men of Salt Lake City, and of the respect shown the President, stating that a fine spirit permeated the gathering and amongst the speakers was Bishop D. G. Hunt, Catholic of the gathering sponsored by Henry Ford at which President Bishop of Salt Lake City. Also Grant was a guest and of the appreciation showed the President at the conclusion of his short speech when he related an experience or two of his during his long years of service in the Church. Elder Young's talk was listened to with keen interest by young and old. Elder John Salmon spoke briefly and bore a strong testimony to the truthfulness of this work and the power of the Priest-

A Junior Girl's Chorus, directed by Ira McBride was present at this session and rendered a very interesting program of singing, among their numbers being: "Morning Song," "Serenade," "The Bridge Build it" and a couple of others. The offerings of the chorus were complimented by all the speakers.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Shirley King of the Military Postal Corps was asked to speak representing the men in the service, and he expressed his joy at being home for a visit, and told of the branch in Ottawa and the efforts they were making to keep the work going.

The members of the former Stake Presidency, Elders H. S. Allen, O. H. Snow, and J. W. Evans spoke in the order named and urged more faith and works on the part of the people stating that we were living in a peculiar period of world's history when the very foundations of our civilization were being shaken. Each of them bore testimony to the truthfulness of the work in which we are engaged.

President Wood reported conditions in the Stake and then spoke of the terrible war of destruction now being waged, and of the tremendous job ahead for the peoples of the world to rebuild the earth when peace comes. He urged closer observance of the teachings of the Church as a protection and an aid in these times.

Elder Young was the concluding speaker and he told of the growth of this Church from its very small beginning and of the faith and devotion to duty of the men and women who had been at the forefront in its growth and progress. He spoke of conditions in the world today, and said that the only foundation for permanent peace, was an acceptance by the people of the world of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the doctrine of brotherly love and service. We should exercise charity toward those who we oppose even in this war, and they are victims of the evils of their leaders, and not the authors of our trouble. If we would act with a spirit of charity we would be happy because of overcoming the feelings of hate. He told of many incidents he had noted in his experience of the blessings that come from prayer, and said that God did not always remove the troubles that confronted us, but that we would be made strong to meet them if we exercised faith and were prayerful. Prayers were not always answered as we thought they should be, but humble, sincere prayers were always answered for our best good. America is consecrated as a land of liberty and freedom and we should live so that the banner of freedom will always wave here, and our land continue to be a haven for the oppressed people of the world.

The Stake Choir, under the baton of W. C. Stone was present at this session and rendered a number of beautiful anthems, among them being: "Holy, Lord, God of Hosts," "The Wintery Day" & Kipling's Recessional.

Hon. Sec-Treas.- Al Roddick.
Members, Frank Taylor, Golden Snow and R. F. Walsh.

It has been their duty to secure drill and lecture halls, provide finances for uniforms and so on and nominate the Officers and Instructors for the unit and to insure that your unit is conducted in accordance with the Air Cadet League Rules and Regulations. These men will answer any question you have regarding Air Cadet work and ideals and next week we will have another short note for you.

program was "The Ramparts We Watch." Speakers from the M. I. A. were Alma Redd, Marva Heninger, A. F. Dahl, A. G. Evans and Elder Clifford E. Young who delivered an inspiring message to the youth of the Church. The Mutual Chorus directed by W. C. Stone sang "Youth's Call." "O Canada" and "Carry On" as a special part of the program. 800 people were present at the evening session.

Funeral services over the remains of Owen E. Lee who passed away suddenly as reported last week, were held in the First Ward Chapel Monday at 2 p.m.

The opening song by the choir was "Oh My Father," invocation by Bishop J. O. Hicken and the second song "I Need Thee Every Hour."

Elder H. S. Allen was the first speaker giving some of the history of the family and speaking of the dependability of deceased, who had worked for the speaker for many years. He spoke of the resurrection and offered comfort and consolation to the bereaved wife and children.

E. H. Wagstaffe, who had worked with deceased intermittently for nine years spoke briefly and paid tribute to the nature and willingness of deceased.

Miss Jeannine Wilde sang "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go, Dear Lord."

Elder W. W. Wilde spoke next on the three degrees of glory, and exhorted the members of the family to live worthy of the heritage that had been given them by their parents. Elder G. Fairbanks spoke on the life after death, and the promises that are held out to the faithful.

Jos. McLean sang "Goin' Home" as the closing number and the benediction was pronounced by Elder L. C. Woolley.

A goodly number of cars followed the remains to the cemetery where interment took place, the grave being dedicated by Heber F. Allen, of the Stake Presidency.

With the many friends of the family we extend our sincere sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Sam) Fairbanks, of Burbank, California are spending a couple of weeks in Raymond visiting relatives and friends. They are delighted to be back again for a few days and their many friends here are delighted to have them.

W. I. Meeting

The Raymond W.I. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. T. Allen with 24 ladies present, Mrs. F. G. Hall was in the chair.

The meeting opened by singing "O Canada" then the creed repeated and minutes of last meeting read and approved, and business attended to.

Roll call was answered by current events. A talk on war service was given by Lee Brewerton was enjoyed by all present. After which Mrs. Alvin Jones gave us two lovely piano solos.

Mrs. J. Miller read some short pieces and gave reports on what the W.I. had done for Red Cross in the last year.

Two more ditty bags were filled and one leather Jacket made by Mrs. A. Winkler were all sent in to the Navy League. Plans were made to fill another ditty bag and a quilt for the month of December.

Lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. T. Allen and Mrs. E. Christensen assisted by Mrs. Allens daughters Hazel and Hilda. The next meeting will be held December 10th at the home of Mrs. F. G. Hall.

HELP FOR BRAVE ALLY FROM CANADA IS AIM OF AID TO RUSSIA FUND

I. S. McLean Is President of New Organization to Keep Supplies Flowing Continually — Medicine and Clothing Required—Convoys Get Through

EMULATE MRS. CHURCH- ILL'S FAMED BRITISH WORK

In response to a widespread demand from all parts of Canada, a Canadian Aid to Russia Fund has been organized, under the chairmanship of Mr. J.
Stanley McLean, head of Canada Packers, Ltd., with headquarters in Toronto.

The fund in Canada will provide an opportunity to Canadians to express in a tangible form and in continuous measure, the admiration, gratitude and sympathy they feel in their hearts for the heroic Russian people, the people who, as Mrs.
Churchill recently stated, "have set an unparalleled example to all of us."

Russia's needs are so great that everybody's help is needed. The fighters behind the lines, the refugees in the far eastern areas and in the reoccupied territories need warm clothing, boots, bedding, foodstuffs, medical supplies. They need large quantities of these things and help to them must go continuously.

From Great Britain, United States, the Argentine, Palestine Australia, "New Zealand" and South American countries, citizens are sending help continuously to Russia. This is done through both Red Cross societies and voluntary committees.
The latter are able to do what the Red Cross may not be able to do. In Canada the Red Cross society last year collected thru a public appeal, the sum of $860,000 and now the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund will promote on a continuous basis, aid to Russia activities throughout the Dominion.

The aid-to-Russia movement in Britain has no parallel in any of the Allied countries.
That movement has been described as the most dynamic of the civilian war activities among the British masses. Everyone is participating in this work, from school children who take part in the "penny-a-week" drive, to the aged in institutions who knit and do what they can to add to the total aid sent to Russia.

Mrs. Churchill's Aid-to-Russia fund commenced in October of 1941. It has to date collected £2,100,000 (approximately $10,000,000), and practically every penny has been spent. On October 5 of this year Mrs.
Churchill reported that the fund had £250 on hand and all past and future orders paid.

There is no dearth of imagination and energy in the British aid-to-Russia movement, either in collecting money or spending it on things that Russia needs.
Eighteen consignments of medical supplies and equipment, totalling 2,571 tons, have been sent to Russia by Mrs. Churchill's fund.

Recently, at the request of the British government, the Churchill fund sent to Russia 400,000 woollen garments for refugees restored to the regained territory. This order was filled with the help of the British Women's Voluntary services.

Mrs. Churchill has explained that in order to procure some of the articles, special methods of production had to be introduced and priorities assigned from the British government.
Supplies bearing relief supplies to Russia do get to their destination. The British admiralty, the United States navy department and the Russian government have all reported recently that none of the convoys plying their way to Murmansk had been lost this summer.

The Canadian Aid to Russia Fund, Inc., has been organized to provide, on a continuing basis, an opportunity to Canadians to send to the Russian people the body-warming clothing, the healing medicines, the heartwarming sympathy and friendship that they need in their hour of crisis and suffering.

There are many things needed in Russia which can be supplied by Canada. By using ingenuity and goodwill, Canadians will be able to make and collect a variety of necessities for the gallant people in the Soviet Union.

The head office of the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund is room 205, 80 King St. W., Toronto.
Contributions and inquiries may be sent there. Further information will be issued shortly.

DR. JAMES S. THOMSON

General Manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Dr. James S. Thomson assumed the general management of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in November succeeding Mr. W. E. Gladstone Murray, who has moved to Toronto as director-general of broadcasting for the CBC.

Dr. Thomson, who has been President of the University of Saskatchewan since 1937, made the following statement in connection with his new work:

"The national radio system more than any other public institution is the voice of Canada. The function of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is to make that voice sincere, authentic and worthy. In co-operation with the local stations we must endeavour to let the Canadian tongue find utterance in both our languages, and yet with a local accent.

"We have to interpret the spirit of our people in all its variety of mood and aspiration.
There must be fun and laughter for the leisure hour, as well as serious talk to rally our hearts in the midst of a tremendous ordeal. There must be music that touches the soul with the noblest strains, and higher melodies for the dancing feet of youth.

"In lonely homes out on the prairies and in the great north land, people are hungry for news, and they regard radio as a vital contact with the life of the world. In wartime especially, one of the most important responsibilities assumed by radio is the rapid dissemination of news from reliable sources and also its discussion and interpretation.

"All who are concerned with its management and direction carry the gravest of responsibilities. We must cultivate sensitive and understanding minds and sustain the highest ideal in this latest but most potent instrument of human intercourse."

A.M.A. WILL DISCUSS CAR PLATE PROBLEM

Reduction of the gasoline ration basis from four to three gallons in Alberta will be one of the main subjects for discussion at the annual general meeting of the Alberta Motor Association which will be held in the Palliser hotel, Calgary on December 12.

Officials are obtaining full information concerning the situation and it is expected that resolutions will be considered dealing with rationing as it affects Alberta motorists.

The A.M.A. has expressed its desire to give the maximum aid possible in assisting the country's war effort but it feels that with a big producing oilfield in Turner Valley this province is in a special position that should be recognized in respect to gas oline rationing.

Use of the single motor plate on cars is another subject which may be discussed at the annual meeting of A.M.A. branches this month. Provincial government officials have stated however, that the 1943 stock of number plates already is on hand, but there has been no decision as to whether one or both number plates will be required on cars.

"We'll hold your place"

IN EVERY city, town and village throughout Canada today there are gaps where once were young men. They heard a call and put on navy blue, khaki, horizon blue, and they have gone, answering a call :

They are missed—missed not only in their homes but also in the business places which once they filled.

They have gone from every institution in Canada;
but from none more than from the chartered banks.
There is hardly a branch office from coast to coast which is not today the poorer—and the prouder —for those who thus laid down their pens.

But every branch manager, as he shook parting hands, had this consolation: he could say, "We'll hold your place. It will be waiting for you when you come back. That is a pledge."

So it is the part of those who remain to serve their country in such a way that the promise may be kept: "We'll hold your place."

There were 14,433 single and married men from 18 to 45 years of age employed by the Chartered Banks at the outbreak of war. 5,053—or 35% of them had joined the armed forces by October 31st, 1942; 1,243 others who joined bank staffs since war began have also enlisted.

LETTER OF THANKS

Ottawa, November —Thanks largely to the people of Western Canada, the production of steel in this country has not thus far slowed down because of lack of scrap, the Munitions and Supply Department said today.

To the thousands of westerners responsible for the success of the recent scrap campaign on the Prairies, Steel Controller F. B. Kilbourn has written an open letter of appreciation. It reads:

"The results of the western Scrap Campaign recently launched in the Prairie Provinces with the generous assistance of the various elevator companies have been most encouraging and productive.

"I realize well that such success could only have been achieved through the efforts and sacrifices of many thousands of Western farmers, implement dealers, and voluntary salvage corps and committees, who co-operated with the various elevator agents in this undertaking.

"To thank the tireless workers for their valuable help, thru the medium of this letter, seems an inadequate acknowledgment of a great service, you may, however, take pride in the thought that you and others with you have been responsible for the continued production of steel in our mills, and for the steady flow of arms to United Nations.

"Canada's men in the armed forces and the merchant marine look to you for a continuation of your efforts during this coming year."

Countries are well cultivated not as they are fertile but as they are free.—Montesquieu.

None can love freedom heartily but good men; the rest love not freedom but license.—Milton.

There is such a surplus of corn in Argentina that great piles can be found on all large farms. A considerable quantity of this corn is being utilized for fuel.

Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University of Alberta, says that the weed menace on Alberta farms deserves immediate attention and something should be done while the problem is of measurable proportions.

GROWING FLAX IN COMBINATION WITH WHEAT OR OTHER CEREAL

The question is frequently asked, "Is it advisable to grow flax in combination with other grain rather than by itself?" There are advantages and disadvantages to the system of combination cropping are: 1. It is easier to cut flax when it is grown in a mixture with other grain than when it is grown alone. 2. Flax in combination with other grain will fight weeds much better than when sown alone. 3. If the land is liable to erode wheat seedlings can push their way through making it possible for the flax to emerge. 4. While no definite data are available there is reason to believe that flax grown in combination with wheat is damaged less by grass hoppers than when grown alone.

The chief disadvantages are: 1. Flax should be sown fairly shallow and under certain conditions it is necessary to seed the wheat and flax separately. 2. A crop of wheat and flax mixed is more difficult to market and it is practically essential to separate it. 3. The grade of flax is frequently lowered on account of broken wheat particles. Manufacturers of linseed oil object to these as they reduce the percentage of oil extracted. Where there is not too much risk of producing a satisfactory crop of flax by seeding it alone it is preferable to seed it that way. Under favourable conditions flax can be expected to yield approximately half as many bushels per acre as would be obtained from wheat. As the market value of flax is now more than double that of wheat it can readily be seen that it is a considerably more profitable crop to grow at present than wheat, particularly when wheat is so difficult to market.

A mixture of wheat and flax is likely to prove successfully only in the parts of the province where a favourable moisture supply is usually received. Experiments have been conducted at the Lethbridge Experimental Station on irrigated land over a period of five years in seeding wheat and flax in different combinations. From results obtained a mixture of half a bushel of wheat and half a bushel of flax per acre appears to be a satisfactory combination. The average yields obtained for the five-year period indicate that with wheat and flax at their present market values a combination of one half bushel of flax and one-half bushel of wheat per acre should give a gross return of approximately $41.00 per acre as compared with a gross return of $57.00 per acre from flax alone and $31.00 per acre from wheat alone.

When deciding to grow wheat and flax in combination the time of maturing of the varieties used is important. Marquis wheat and Bison flax mature at the same time and can, therefore, be used together, but if an earlier variety such as Red Fob 222 is chosen then an earlier variety of flax, such as Red Wing, should also be chosen.

From observations made thru out the district as well as at the Experimental Station it appears more advisable to seed flax alone than in combination.

It is not advisable to seed flax in combination with oats or barley, as the rapid growth of these crops and the heavy leaf system tends to smother the flax and depress the yield. It also requires seeding the flax and oats or barley separately.

Food Supplies

The varieties which make up our wheat, oat, barley and flax crops have changed with extraordinary rapidity during the past few years. The changes have nearly all been improvements, and for this we must thank the plant breeders and other agricultural scientists. Since pure stocks of some varieties will not be equal to the demand, now is the time to begin thinking about purchases.

A farmer may be obliged to obtain new seed because the quality of his own is inferior. It may be frozen, sprouted, shrivelled, etc.; or replacement may be necessary as a result of mixtures or weed seeds which cannot be removed. In such cases, replacement may be made with pure seed of the same variety. The sooner orders are placed, the easier it will be to get really first-class stocks.

If a different variety is required, the farmer may know exactly what he wants. Even though he does, it is a good plan to consult the Provincial Department of Agriculture, Field Crops Branch, or the Provincial University or nearest Dominion Experimental Farm. You are certain to get helpful information since these organizations are well posted on the latest experimental results.

Elevator agents of Lino Elevator Companies associated with this Department are authorized distributors of seed for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Crop Improvement Associations. As soon as official variety recommendations are available, they will be in elevator agents' offices.

WILLING BUT NOT DUMB

(Chicago Sun)

Too many of our city folks look upon a farmer as a dumb but willing soul who could be replaced by any other worker of sufficiently strong back and weak mind. The basis of this delusion is an unfortunate fact of rural life; anyone who can raise the down payment on a piece of land may set up as a farmer. Thus a land-user-upper harvesting 20 bushels of corn to the acre is allowed to operate next door to a farmer harvesting 80 bushels, whereas a two-bit-an-hour mechanic who may be in on the bench next to a $1 an hour mechanic would be thrown out of the shop as soon as his first few moves betrayed his incapacity.

When it comes to farmers who can farm, there is no comparison between the farm laborer and any other laborer of like earning capacity. The farm hand who gets up and milks a cow, starts a tractor, plows a field with an unerring eye for contour, to avoid gully-ing from rain and snow runoff, climbs 40 feet in the air to desquawk the windmill, and winds up the day playing midwife to a Poland China sow's 10 pigs, has exerted strength and also skills that few industrial jobs require.

It's going to give this country a considerable shock if we have to discover the hard way that you can put the farm boy on the assembly line to better effect than you can put the factory hand on the farm.—Wheat Pool Budge.

Venereal Disease

Of all public health problems none is more significant or sinister than that of Venereal Disease. The seriousness of these diseases, especially in wartime cannot be over emphasized and every effort should be made to bring them under control.

Their significance was realized to the full with the progress of the last great war. Towards the end of the last war, machinery was put into effect to bring them under control.

Now, with the advent of the present war, there is likely to be a marked increase in these diseases. It therefore becomes necessary to call the matter to public attention in no uncertain way.

Under the auspices of the Health League of Canada, a new moving-picture is being distributed throughout Canada. This picture, entitled "No Great or Sin" commences showings in Raymond at the Capitol Theatre Nov. 30, Dec. 1-2.

The picture has met the approval of health authorities both in the United States and Canada and this message will be of value to everyone in the community.

Ken Blair of the Mid-West Paper Sales Ltd., was a Raymond visitor Monday at the Recorder Office.

AW2 Nova O'Brien was home over the week-end on leave from Claresholm. Nova is working as telephone operator in the Military Telephone Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cooper and family of Pictou, Butte were Raymond visitors Monday for the funeral services of Owen L. Dee.

Mrs. Jessie Andrews is spending a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller. Her husband spent the week-end here and then went back to look after the farm.

M. and Mrs. Mac Hicken, of Berkeley, California are visiting relatives and friends here for a few days. Mac is looking fine and is glad to be in Raymond once more.

Miss Iona Piepgrass of the CWAC is spending a leave in Raymond with her parents and friends here. She is looking fine and is enjoying her experiences in the army.

Pres. Willard L. Smith of the Alberta Stake at Cardston, was a Raymond visitor Saturday afternoon last, bringing Elder Clifford E. Young here for our Quarterly Conference.

Born Mr. and Mrs. J. Ammon Anderson on Sunday, Nov. 22, a ten pound baby boy. Mother and son are doing fine. We asked grandfather James S. if it would be named Heber Jedediah in honor of Pres. Grant, but he didn't know.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. T. O. King was reported as feeling better and progressing slowly after her series of operations in a Calgary Hospital where one eye had to be removed following an operation for cataracts. Her many friends in Raymond are wishing for her speedy and complete recovery.

Last week's cold wave broke Friday, and Saturday and Sunday the Chinook held undisputed sway nearly all of the snow disappearing and the streets becoming muddy. Monday night a couple of skiffs of snow, accompanied by a north wind, froze the mud, but hardly covered the ground, and Tuesday's weather was cool but pleasant.
